AT CALVARY BAPTIST.

Dr. Broughton Pays His Respects to Police Justice Wood.

Rev. Dr. Len. G. Broughton, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, preached on Sunday night to an overflowing house on the subject of "Sowing and Reaping." As a prelude to his sermon, as previously announced, Dr. Broughton paid his respects to the workings of the office of the police justice in this city. He said he felt that he was due an explanation to his congregation since he had been dragged into the police court as a witness against A. Bowman & Son, charged with selling ice cream and delivering it on Sunday. He said that during the illness of his wife the lady who had charge of the household affairs had gotten the cream for his Sunday dinner and he ate it, but that it had been obtained without his knowledge or consent. He at once notified the chief of police, at the same time telling him that he would be responsible for the acts of his agent, meaning his housekeeper.

Soon after this occurrence an order was issued by the chief of police to the ice cream manufacturers that they would not be allowed to deliver any more cream to customers on Sunday, as it was a violation of the law. This it seems was generally observed, but the "honorable" chief justice—i. e., police justice, "he came apprised of the fact that he was a purchaser of cream a week before the order had been issued by Chief Dyer. The police justice at once took steps to have him brought before the court in opposition to the wishes of the chief of police, as he was going behind the chief's notice in order to get a case against any of the dealers, the police justice assigning as his reason that it was a violation of the law and it was his duty as police justice to see that the law was enforced.

The Doctor said that at the tent meeting on the Sunday previous that he had taken occasion to refer to the loose work of the police justice and as a result was singled out, over the head of A. Bowman & Son, and dragged into the police court in a case that was likely to be appealed and carried through the higher courts with him, an apostle of Sabbath observance, as the chief witness, the chief witness as an apostle of Sabbath observance. He then denounced the action of the police justice as a "downright piece of spite work," charging this official "openly and squarely with prostituting his office to gratify his own personal spite, such a thing as might be expected in a child at child's play, but in a man as being low, groveling and mean."

Dr. Broughton then asked, if he was going behind the chief's order in his case, why he did not issue warrants for about 500 Roanoke citizens who were guilty of violations of the Sunday law?

Why not draw a warrant against the street car men who run the cars on Sunday in direct violation of the ordinance?

Why not issue warrants for the livery stable men who were, Sunday after Sunday, violating the law?

Why not draw up warrants against the Shenandoah Club, against which, "time after time, he has had evidence sufficient to burst them into splinters?"

Why not issue warrants against the houses of prostitution which were open and running and which were flagrant violations of the law?

Again denouncing it as a piece of downright spite work against the Christian minister who stands for purity and cleanliness, Dr. Broughton assumed one of his most dramatic attitudes "and in a most sarcastic manner asked, 'How much did the Burns supper which was given last winter have to do with the delay of that decision before it was rendered?'

Dr. Broughton then preached an interesting and powerful sermon. The baptismal rites were administered to two persons.

Do You Use It?

It's the best thing for the hair under all circumstances. Just as no man by taking thought can add an inch to his stature, so no preparation can make hair. The utmost that can be done is to promote conditions favorable to growth. This is done by Ayer's Hair Vigor. It removes dandruff, cleanses the scalp, nourishes the soil in which the hair grows, and, just as a desert will blossom under rain, so bald heads grow hair, when the roots are nourished. But the roots must be there. If you wish your hair to retain its normal color, or if you wish to restore the lost tint of gray or faded hair use

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.

Itinerary of the Junior Hose Company. Other Notes of Interest.

The eleventh annual session of the Virginia State Firemen's Association will convene in Winchester July 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11th inst. This will be the largest convention of the kind ever held in the Eastern part of the United States, as fire companies from the States of Ohio, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and North Carolina have signified their intention of attending.

The Junior Hose Company have prepared a beautiful souvenir itinerary of the trip to be presented to the various railway officials, train crews, newspaper men, etc. The souvenir is the work of L. E. Lookabill, and is a real piece of art. The front is embellished by the picture of a fireman, axe in hand, climbing a ladder in the attempt to reach a blaze. The back has a splendid cut of the aerial turntable truck which is used by the fire ladders of Roanoke.

The following is the itinerary of the trip:

Tuesday, July 6, 10:45 p. m., leave Roanoke via Norfolk and Western railway.

Wednesday, July 7, 6:20 a. m., arrive at Hagerstown; 7:30 breakfast at "Hotel Hamilton"; 10:40 leave Hagerstown via Cumberland Valley railroad; 12 noon arrive at Winchester; headquarters at the "Hotel Evans"; 8 p. m., the company will attend the opening of the convention.

Saturday, July 10, the members will take in Hagerstown and vicinity.

Sunday, July 11, 12:30 a. m., leave Hagerstown; 7:50 a. m., arrive at Roanoke.

The officers of the company are as follows: Chas. W. Hays, president; L. E. Lookabill, first vice-president; C. F. Sisler, second vice-president; Jas. E. Rooker, foreman and acting treasurer; W. E. Airheart, assistant foreman and secretary; H. M. Ward, assistant foreman; Jas. McFall, treasurer; Chas. W. Hays, captain hook and ladder truck; L. E. Lookabill, lieutenant hook and ladder truck; E. L. Richardson, engineer.

Richardson, R. H. Rush, Ira Schooley, N. Schloss, Jno. D. Thomas, E. E. Ward, A. H. Weedon, W. E. Airheart, J. P. Bowman, S. K. Bitterman, J. J. Cox, D. G. Cunningham, B. L. Creasey, J. B. Fayman, A. E. Grove, C. W. Hays, L. E. Lookabill, Jas. McFall, Jas. M. Moore, D. A. Parraek, Jas. E. Rooker, C. F. Sisler, Chas. Schloss, J. A. Traynham, Jno. Van-Lew, H. M. Ward, E. E. Young, Jno. Wagner, messenger; Roland Cachelin, messenger.

Following is the committee of arrangements: L. E. Lookabill, chairman; Jas. E. Rooker, Harry M. Ward.

The Friendship Fire Company will send about thirty men on the trip and the Alerts will send perhaps a dozen of their members. It is not known who will have charge of the members of the two last named companies. Jas. E. Rooker, foreman, will be in command of the Juniors. Four special coaches will be attached to train No. 6 for the benefit of the firemen. The Norfolk and Western and Cumberland Valley roads have offered special favors and inducements to the boys for the trip.

The various companies will assemble in uniform to night at the engine house on South Jefferson street and will march in a body to the depot.

The Friendships have just received their beautiful new uniforms from the factory. They are the regulation fire department uniform with nickel trimmings. On the lapel of the coats are the initials R. F. D. The vests are white duck with caps to match, crush crown, with silver braid across the top and the initials of the Friendship Fire Company in a wreath on the front.

One day will be spent in Hagerstown and arrangements have been made for the entertainment of our laddies by the firemen of that city. At night the boys will indulge in a trolley ride over to Williamsport, Md., where they have been invited through L. E. Lookabill to spend the evening, it being his old home. The boys will be welcomed by the mayor and the silver cornet band and will be given a good time while at the old home of the first vice-president of the fireman's association.

Capt. Edward W. Burns, traveling passenger agent of the Cumberland Valley railroad, will travel with the boys over his road and assist in giving them a good time.

Second assistant chief of the Roanoke Fire Department, Antone Gelson, will be in attendance. Also J. C. Graves, vice-president of the Friendship Fire Company, and L. E. Lookabill, first vice-president of the Virginia Firemen's Association.

Jno. B. Fayman, a genius of the Junior Hose Company, who has never yet failed to attend an annual convention, has laid off for the past week arranging to go on this trip. He will be accompanied by the fire dog, Beulah, and all who go may expect to be well entertained by this well-known genius.
